Investigative Service

Services provided: 24 hours/7 days a week investigative coverage. Upon receiving a report of a sexual assault offense, Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (MCIO) will briefly interview the victim to determine the identity of the perpetrator and the location and circumstances of the attack. Agents will then investigate the offense based on the results of that interview. Commanders should be expected to provide search authorization, based on probable cause set forth by the agents, to secure and search the scene and perpetrator for evidence as requested. Investigators may canvass building occupants in the area of the attack and the residence of the victim and perpetrator. Commanders should be briefed periodically on the status of the investigation within their unit.
